THE DORCAS ORPHANAGE HOME

Located in Sironko District in eastern Uganda, the Dorcas Home cares for children 2 to 18 years old. It was started in 1997 by several Christian women who were distressed at the increasing number of orphans with no place to sleep and nothing to eat. Together, they began the Dorcas Orphanage. When supplies ran out and there seemed no way to continue, one woman remained faithful. Her prayers were answered when Family Connections Christian Adoptions began a sponsorship program to feed and shelter the children. With the help of her husband, Wilber, Elizabeth Madaba has maintained the care of a growing number of needy children, besides starting a pre-school for impoverished village children and a Health Center to serve the community. Sponsoring one child results in help for others.

THE KEZIYA ORPHANAGE HOME

In northern Uganda, where rebels have terrorized the land for twenty years, children wander the countryside looking for help. They are called the "Night Commuters" or the "Invisible Children." The Rev. Otto Naptali and his wife, Filder, took eleven children into their modest house in Gulu before they had to start turning down desperate requests from children at their door. They decided to form a group of family and friends to start the Keziya Orphanage. Now a series of mud huts on a piece of land serves as home to many more orphans. The children are grateful for a daily meal and shelter, as well as having people to care for them. They are thrilled to be attending school and now have hope for the future. These are the fortunate ones. Many more children wait for help.
